

The incredible world behind our hatching kit...

Preservation

Safeguarding the biodiversity of heritage breeds and promoting the highest possible standards in animal welfare

Incredible Eggs are established and reputable small-scale poultry breeders and conservationists and these hatching eggs would otherwise have been hatched back at the farm.

Incredible Eggs have the facilities, knowledge and experience in place which enables them to responsibly offer this service. They are advocates of 'old school', low intensity, traditional smallholder farming methods.

Wildlife conservation

Bringing conservation to the heart of the classroom with hatch-for-release 'Operation Grey Partridge'.

Working alongside specialist breeders, farmers and land-owners, Incredible Eggs are increasing the numbers of grey partridges in the wild. This once common native bird is now on the Birds of Conservation Concern 'red list'. Red is the highest conservation priority, with species needing urgent action.

Schools, nurseries and care homes who book with Incredible Eggs are actively supporting the preservation of pure and rare poultry breeds, some of which are listed as 'at risk' with the Rare Breeds Survival Trust.

Incredible Eggs are proud supporters of the amazing Roald Dahl's Marvellous Children's Charity, which provides specialist nurses for children with serious illnesses.
